

www.slpcc.eu

www.avvocatisport.it

PRESS RELEASE

(Amalfi – Ravello, 22 May 2014)

The Sports Law and Policy Centre (SLPC) organizes the I edition of the Executive Programme in International Sports Law and Justice, May 26- June 1, 2014

Representatives from FIFA, UEFA, ECA, and other international sports associations will meet in Amalfi and Ravello to analyse the international sports regulations.

Under the direction of Michele Colucci, leading experts of the sector will examine the relevant international football regulations as well as the latest CAS and FIFA case law.

They will provide an in-depth review of the new regulations on the FIFA intermediaries, the FIFA regulations on transfer of players, as well as the UEFA financial fair play.

A session will be dedicated to doping, to the new WADA code and to its impact on athletes and clubs.

Omar Ongaro (FIFA), Julien Zylberstein (UEFA), Wouter Lambrecht (CAS), Walter Palmer (Uni Global Sport), Marta Serrano Valenzuela (Juventus College) and other lawyers of great renown such as Juan De Dios Crespo, Mario Gallavotti, Marketa Haindlova, Dennis Koolarad, Marco Longobardi, Ettore Mazzilli, Luca Tettamanti and Mario Vigna will lead the working sessions.

Participants come from Belgium, Bosnia, Czech Republic, Cyprus, France, Israel, Japan, Italy, The Netherlands and the United Arab Emirates.

For more information about the programme and the agenda please visit www.slpcc.eu and/or contact Michele Colucci at info@colucci.eu

Città di Amalfi

